

Merger of Kirkwood And Atlanta Held Up By Injunction Order

Votes Are Cast But Court Ruling Prevents Count Being Made, and Both Sides Claim Victory.

SPECTACULAR PARADE HELD BY MERGERITES

Meet Atlanta Officials at Hayes Station and In- vade City—Anti-Merger- ites Also Celebrate.

Despite the fact that citizens of Kirkwood marched to the polls Wednesday and voted on the proposed merger with Atlanta, the fight again has been taken to the courts, and no announcement of the results of the suit will be made until the legal battle, arising as a result of the application recently made for an injunction against holding the election, is finally decided.

With the ballots as yet uncounted, both sides Wednesday night were claiming victory and held spectacular celebrations, the mergerists making a parade from the Hayes Station and parading through the city in autos, and the anti-mergerists gathering at the home of one of their number in Kirkwood.

Managers Enfolded.

Just after the polls had closed

and the managers were about to begin the task of counting ballots Wednesday, they were served with a writ of supersedeas following the application for injunction of the election by anti-mergerites, which was denied by Judge John B. Hutcheson last Saturday. The supersedeas prohibits the authorities of Kirkwood from declaring the re-

The merger faction announced through J. R. Bachman, prominent Kirkwood citizen, that it has checked over the voting list and that its findings show a vote of approximately 762 for merging as compared to 492 against merging.

On the other hand, anti-mergerites refuse to recognize these figures and claim that a careful check on their own shows a vote of about 830 against merging.

of the prime movers of the merger movement. In a confident tone, "That fact is plainly evident. It was a sweeping victory. The backbone of the opposition to the movement lies in a small clique of office-holders. The clique opposing the merger will die hard."

"In fighting the issue of today's voting, the anti-merger faction is harking back to the provision of the constitution whereby a city is forbidden to assume a new debt unless the citizens vote to do so. Kirkwood has bonded indebtedness of $125,000. The opponents of the merger insist that Atlanta vote upon assuming that debt."

"The anti-merger faction won this election," declared Mr. Davidson, with equal assurance. "Our check of the situation shows a good margin against merging."

"The anti-merger committee contends that the bill as passed by the legislature is unconstitutional for the reason that it does not make provision for the bonded or floating debt of Kirkwood, but does provide that Kirkwood take over the debt of Atlanta's indebtedness. The bill provides in its caption, it is contended, that the vote should show that there is a majority of the qualified voters, and the body of the bill provides that there shall be a majority of the voting voters. The constitution provides that no bill shall have any different principle in its caption than its embodied in its body."

The bill, it is declared, calls for a repeal of the charter of 1910, whereas Kirkwood has a different charter in force, passed by the legislature in 1918.

While conflicting statements were being issued by leaders of the rival factions, sensational demonstrations were being staged by the opposing sides.

Mass for Celebration.
The mergerites massed for their celebration at Hayes station. They had hired a brass band for the occasion. Mayor Key was escorted from his home to the scene in an automobile, and Police Chief Beavers, at the head of a squad of mounted policemen, rode out to meet the jubilant throng.

"Now that you're our mayor, we're going home with you," somebody shouted.

"Come on," answered Mayor Key, and the crowd rushed pell-mell for the station. Soon a large number of citizens, many of them wearing white robes, and some carrying torches, were on their way to Mayor Key's home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Whereas Kirkwood has a different charter in force, passed by the legislature in 1918.

While conflicting statements were being issued by leaders of the rival factions, sensational demonstrations were being staged by the opposing sides.

Mayor Key Speaks.
In a brief talk Mayor Key told the citizens that he rejoiced with them. "I am glad to be at the christening of this baby," he said. "I'm going to name it the Twelfth Ward."

Spoke of the substantial and material benefits that Kirkwood would receive as a part of Atlanta, and the crowd cheered and sang the city's new anthem.

Following the mayor, L. J. Cassels, former mayor of Kirkwood; J. R. Bachman, member of the Kirkwood council, and Chief Beavers made short talks.

Anti-Mergerites Meet.
With equal enthusiasm the anti-mergerites were celebrating at the home of W. E. Saunders, in Kirkwood. Mr. Saunders was chairman of the anti-merger committee. Porters of this faction met on the lawn at his residence. They were claiming victory and manifesting just as much joy over the result as the mergerites.

Speeches were made by Paul J. Tabbot, A. E. Wilson, Mr. Saunders and others opposed to the merger.

According to figures secured from the merger faction, 703 votes were cast in favor of the annexation, and 402 against it. The vote by wards was as follows: Ward 1, for 223; against 78; ward 2, for 156, against 78; ward 3, for 154, against 23; ward 4, for 191, against 85.

Women took a special part in the election. In the second ward, it is declared, the majority of the voters were women, and large numbers of them voted in all of the wards. The total registration, it was learned, totaled 1,220. Of this number, 1,165 voted.

Wordings of Superstitions.
The wording of the superstitious preventing the votes on the merger being announced follows:

TOWN OF KIRKWOOD ET AL.

The above stated case having come on for hearing before me under the rule and issued in said case and a hearing having been had and said matter on the application for interlocutory injunction after hearing the evidence in said case and argument of counsel, it is ordered and adjudged that the injunction prayed for against the holding of said election and the same hereby is denied.

The plaintiffs in said case having admitted their intention of carrying said case to the supreme court of Georgia on a bill of exceptions to review the ruling in said case, and having applied for a supersedeas, it is ordered that pending the filing of a bill of exceptions in said case, provided the same is tendered within ten days from the date hereof, a supersedeas be and it is hereby granted to the following extent only: that is, that the defendants and each of them and any one acting under them, be and they are hereby enjoined from interfering with the results of the election to be held on September 28, 1921, under the act approved August 10, 1921, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'A new charter for the city of Atlanta,' approved February 28, 1914, and the several acts amendatory thereof, by extending the limits of said city beyond the limits now defined so as to take in the territory now included in what is known as the limits of Kirkwood, etc."

And it is further ordered that if the plaintiffs shall present a bill of exceptions and have same duly certified and pay the costs in this case within ten days from the date hereof, to have the judgment in this case reviewed by the supreme court of Georgia, then this supersedeas and injunction against the declaring of the results of said election shall continue until the supreme court shall have rendered a judgment on said bill of exceptions, and if the judgment of the supreme court in said case shall be against the plaintiffs in said case, and shall hold that the act under which the said election was called is a valid act, or shall be in favor of the defendants in this case, then the results of said election shall be declared.

History of Merger.
The question of Kirkwood merging with Atlanta was first broached during the first week of June, 1921, when R. J. Davidson and J. R. Bachman, both of Kirkwood, called a meeting of the citizens of that town to consider the proposition. Approximately 400 people attended that meeting. Two weeks later a similar meeting was called and approximately the same number of people attended that one.

It was decided to ask the council of Kirkwood to enter into negotiations with the city council of Atlanta, and was endorsed by that body. General council furthermore authorized the Fulton county delegation in the general assembly of the state to aid in the passage of a bill calling for an election to be held on the merger. The DeKalb delegation also was urged in the petition to aid.

James L. Mayson, attorney for Atlanta, drew up a bill, which was presented to the general assembly and passed by that body on Monday, August 8. The bill called for a popular vote by the citizens of Kirkwood to decide the question of September 28.

On Friday, September 23, a petition to enjoin the mayor and council of Kirkwood from holding the election was filed in the name of R. J. Davidson, a taxpayer of Kirkwood; H. A. Tompkins, a bondholder of New York, and others through the law firm of Branch & Howard. A hearing of the petition was held on the following day by Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, and a decision against the decision rendered.

BILLMYER INDICTED FOR DOUBLE KILLING
Nashville, Tenn., September 28.—(Special.)—Charles Billmyer, a confession man, who last Thursday is alleged to have shot to death W. C. Fickett, of Atlanta, and Charles L. Stewart, of Bloomington, Ind., the state fair grounds, was indicted today by the Davidson county grand jury in two counts of first degree murder. Billmyer maintains his innocence.

Billmyer was employed as a helper in a soft drink stand and eating establishment at the state fair grounds by the two slain men. Although a large crowd saw the shooting, local officials were unable to obtain but three witnesses, it is said, to appear before the grand jury.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC., WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very garden of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonic and strength-builders known to medical science, said Dr. James Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital, (under Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently.

Dr. Sullivan further said:—"If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food of craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is true—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the most powerful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." ## Don't Cripple Children's Feet

NATURE never intended shoe prisons for growing feet. Cram five toes into narrow bone-bending shoes and corns, bunions, callouses, weak arches and other foot ailments result. And they are unnecessary, because Educator shoes are scientifically built to "let the feet grow as they should."

Don't rob the growing child of its birth-right. Don't bend young bones out of shape. A glance at the X-Ray herewith tells a vivid story of abused feet.

Come in yourself today and try on a pair of sensible, good-looking Educators. Once you experience the relief they bring, you will want them for all the family. Remember though that unless the name Educator is branded on the sole, the shoe is not a genuine Rice & Hutchins Educator. It's put there for your protection.

How to Eat Iron

Your body needs iron, but you can only get it from the food you eat—not from tonics or ten-penny nails. That is Nature's plan. Of all the minerals the body needs iron is the most important. Try this iron-food for breakfast:

Shredded Wheat

Biscuit with Stewed Raisins. Heat two Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness and cover with stewed raisins and milk. It supplies all the iron you need and all the food you need in digestible form—a food that puts you on your toes for the day's work.

RAILROAD STATION HOURS CHANGED

Important amendments to rules governing the opening and closing of passenger and freight stations in Georgia towns and cities were adopted Wednesday by the state railroad commission. The amendments provide for the opening of many stations at more convenient hours for passengers and also provide for convenience to shippers at freight stations.

commission cover the freight stations and the amendments to rule 10 of the commission relate to the passenger stations.

Amendments Announced.

Following are the amendments announced Wednesday:

Amendment to Freight Rule 25.

At all of the agencies in Georgia in cities and towns having according to the most recently published federal census less than 1,000 population, railroads shall receive all freight property offered for transportation, and shall make the usual deliveries of freight to consignees, at all times on each day (except Sundays), between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., with the exception of one hour for dinner, the same to be fixed for each station so as to best suit the convenience of the public at each of said agency stations.

In cities and towns having, according to such census, a population of 1,000 and less than 10,000, freight shall likewise be received and delivered between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., with the exception of one hour for dinner, the same to be fixed for each station so as to best suit the convenience of the public at each of said agency stations.

In cities and towns having, according to such census, a population of 10,000 and less than 100,000, freight shall likewise be received and delivered between the hours of 7 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., with the exception of one hour for dinner, the same to be fixed for each station so as to best suit the convenience of the public at each of said agency stations.

Amendment Adopted.

Amendment to Passenger Rule No. 10: At all of the agencies in Georgia in cities and towns having according to the most recently published federal census less than one thousand inhabitants, ticket offices and waiting rooms for the accommodation of the traveling public at least 30 minutes before the scheduled time for the arrival of all passenger trains scheduled to stop at such stations.

In cities and towns having, according to such census, more than one thousand inhabitants, ticket offices and waiting rooms shall be provided for the convenience of passengers arriving or departing on trains scheduled to arrive or stop at such stations before that hour.

Provided, however, that any station at which a railroad company may have employed a telegraph operator on duty during hours other than those prescribed by Freight Rule No. 25, for the opening and closing of freight property, both ticket offices and waiting rooms at such points shall be open during the period such operator may be on duty, for the accommodation of passengers, at least 30 minutes before the scheduled arrival of all trains scheduled to stop at such stations.

Under the provisions of this rule a ticket office is not open nor an agent on duty upon the arrival of a passenger train. It shall be the duty of the railroad company to make adequate and convenient arrangements for the handling of baggage and its loading on or discharge from passenger coaches.

arrival of all passenger trains scheduled to stop at such stations.

At all stations located in county seats and towns and cities, having a population of more than one thousand inhabitants, offices and waiting rooms shall be provided for the convenience of passengers arriving or departing on trains scheduled to arrive or stop at such stations before that hour.

At all stations located in cities and towns having a population, according to the most recently published national census, of less than one thousand inhabitants, ticket offices and waiting rooms shall be open during the period that the freight station is required to be open, as provided for in Freight Rule No. 25, for the convenience of passengers arriving or departing on trains scheduled to arrive or stop at such stations before that hour.

At all stations located in cities and towns having a population, according to the most recently published national census, of less than one thousand inhabitants, ticket offices and waiting rooms shall be open during the period that the freight station is required to be open, as provided for in Freight Rule No. 25, for the convenience of passengers arriving or departing on trains scheduled to arrive or stop at such stations before that hour.

lish Rite Crippled Children's hospital in Atlanta, which is in existence because Forrest Adair had an idea some six years ago which the Scottish Rite Masons were glad to accept and furnish money. The hospital was built around the work of Dr. Michael Hoke, one of the most eminent orthopedic surgeons in the world, and Miss Lillian Carter, conceded to be the foremost nurse skilled in the handling of orthopedic cases. It has been heralded all over the world as a model charitable institution, and before starting upon the expenditure of the millions the Shriners will appropriate to the work of reconstructing the bodies of indigent crippled children. It was thought wise to accept Trustees Adair's invitation to thoroughly inspect the hospital in this place.

As a result the Atlanta hospital will be the model for all of the hospitals to be built for the Shriners, with the exception of the one in St. Louis, and Atlanta architects will supervise the construction of these institutions, which in time will be in every state in the union, as well as all over Canada and far down into Alaska.

The board of trustees will meet again in January at which time they will settle on the location of the three hospitals not now definitely placed, and by the time the Shriners meet in St. Louis next June the six hospitals already decided upon will be in course of construction or completed and within eighteen months it is hoped that they will all be finished and in operation, and that by that time five or six other locations may be selected.

Will Be Big Cost.

It costs approximately $10,000 a year to maintain the Scottish Rite Crippled Children's hospital in Atlanta, and allowing as much as $50,000 as an average for the maintenance of each of the six hospitals already authorized, the matter of maintenance will be a big cost in a few years. However, it is thought that when the work once gets started and the Shriners have an opportunity to see the wonderful results there will be no opposition to increasing the assessment from $2 a year to $3, or even more. Letters suggesting such a move are already flooding the mails of the board of trustees.

As an example of how the great charity is taking hold of the Shriners it was announced in St. Louis to the board of trustees that Hella temple, at Dallas, Texas, had voted to build and equip a hospital there and would turn it over to the board of trustees for their supervision. Similarly, the temple at Spokane, Washington, also notified the board of trustees that they would put of their own funds buy a site, build and equip a hospital according to plans and specifications to be submitted by the board of trustees, and upon completion would turn the hospital over to the board of trustees as a gift.

With crippled children's hospitals in Atlanta, Memphis, and one in the Carolinas, now being operated by Masons, the work of reconstructing the crippled children of this country is well on its way.

Lumber Prices at Sawmills Down to Rock Bottom

AFTER a steady decline from the high level of the post-war period, lumber at the sawmills has reached rock bottom. Many items, in fact, are now selling at the sawmills for less than the cost of production.

Today the prices at which lumber is being sold at the sawmills by the lumber manufacturers average less than one-half of the prices a year ago. Some items are lower in price than before the war.

How Lumber Prices at the Sawmills Have Dropped

Overproduction Everywhere—Keen Competition

THE manufacturers' price at the sawmills for ordinary building lumber is only 40% of what it was eighteen months ago.

Flooring has dropped over 60%, heavy timbers for bridges and factories 50%, fence boards 60%.

Only a small proportion of the output of American sawmills—large special items—is now yielding any profit to the sawmill man.

LUMBER was the last commodity to go up in price and the first to come down.

There are 30,000 sawmills trying to sell their product to a market which now could be supplied easily by 20,000.

Lumber is the cheapest as well as the most satisfactory material for home building.

Harding Urges Voters to Duty At Ballot Box

Washington, September 28.—There is no more important duty for the citizen "than this of voting on the one day in the year when his vote means something," President Harding wrote today in replying to a letter from Charles S. Storer, of the Alexandria, Virginia, Republican club, in which the president was asked for an expression on "the duties of a citizen."

Citing as an example of the laxity of voters in casting their ballots, the last election for governor of Virginia when only 30,000 votes were cast while in 1920 the total with women voting rose to only 25,000 out of a total possible qualified vote of about 300,000, the president wrote: "Quite regardless of effect on the fortunes of particular political parties, I am impressed there is need particularly for an appeal to voters to perform their duty at the ballot box on election day. If the result of a full vote in any one of our states should prove disastrous to the party of which you or I chance to be a member, we would at least know that we had heard the voice of the people, and would be more ready to acquiesce in their decision. There is no more important duty for the citizen than this of voting on the one day in the year when his vote means something. If you can succeed in securing in Virginia this fall the largest vote the state ever cast, I will personally feel that you have accomplished a notable civic advantage, quite regardless of the political result. I think it will not be improper for me to add that I shall have, like yourself, no fear of the political result, if an expression can be secured."

SUMTER COUNTY CLAIMS THE OLDEST ORDINARY IN STATE

Americus, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Judge J. E. C. Williams, of Harris county, whose photograph was published recently, as that of the oldest ordinary in Georgia, is the younger star of Sumter county. This was brought out when friends of Captain Cobb called his attention to the photograph of Judge Williams. Captain Cobb, who was re-elected ordinary here two years ago, besides being the oldest ordinary in the state, is sufficiently active to perform all the duties of his office without assistance of any kind. He and County Treasurer H. D. Watts are the two oldest officials in Sumter county, and both, it is generally conceded, will be retained in office during the rest of their lives.

McLendon Shows Success of Docks Owned by States

Docks and wharves at the port of New Orleans owned and constructed by the state of Louisiana are successfully operated from a business standpoint and are paying the state substantial returns, according to a statement issued yesterday by S. G. McLendon, secretary of state and chairman of the Georgia Port, Harbor and Terminal Commission. McLendon compiled the information contained in his statement to show that such state-owned docks and wharves built at one of the ports of Georgia would be successful from a business standpoint.

These figures were compiled to show the vast benefit that will come of the state harbor port and terminal commission succeeds in carrying out its project to build a great one. As to be present and address the gathering.

Juvenile Detention Home Established At Camp Wheeler

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Failure of the state of Georgia to provide funds for the care of juveniles at the state prison farm is responsible for the establishment of a detention home at Camp Wheeler by the Bibb county commissioners. The home is a building of five acres of land for a period of three years was today signed and within a few days the place will be ready for use. The commissioners obtained one of the best army camp buildings, known as the regimental infirmary. It is understood that the commissioners will have the property fenced in at once, but the place is to be made as home-like as possible. There will be no prison bars and while strict discipline will be enforced, the boys will be placed largely on their honor.

HITCH-HUMORED IN IRISH PARLEY

BY RALPH H. TURNER
United News Staff Correspondent
London, September 28.—The unexpected announcement from Galtloch that Lloyd-George's reply to the Valera would not be dispatched until Thursday gave rise to rumors that a new hitch, possibly a cabinet disagreement, had caused the postponement of the premier's action.

It had been understood from semi-official sources that the reply, in the form in which Lloyd-George had submitted it to his colleagues in the cabinet, would be delivered Wednesday. It is now believed that the note will undergo some alterations before it is sent.

In announcing the postponement the press association gives the official version of the incident, which is that "no hitch has occurred, but Lloyd-George decided to wait until twenty-four hours in order to have opportunity to all the ministers to make known their feelings in regard to the document."

Disappointment shown. Advice from Dublin, where the Sinn Féin cabinet was waiting ready to consider the reply the moment it was received, show a great deal of disappointment in the Irish cabinet at the new delay, but the belief persists that the perfect course will be held, regardless of present developments.

The Irish delegates to the conference will be those already nominated, with Arthur Griffith heading the delegation.

Several views of the premier's withholding his reply are expressed in political circles. One is that with the unemployment situation temporarily overshadowing the importance of the treaty, Lloyd-George may have decided to seek further for a solution on the economic problem.

Speculation concerning the suggested eleventh-hour alteration in the text of the treaty is particularly active since the government allowed it to become known previously that all the ministers had submitted their views, suggesting only minor word changes. Three of the ministers are known to be in the city.

Note Shorter Originally. The Irish Note originally was much shorter than now contemplated and consisted of two parts—reaffirmation of the government's position on the treaty and a separate statement of the government's position on the treaty.

Whether the postponement signifies a change in the character of the reply is problematical.

HELD IN TRAIN WRECKING, NEGRO MOVED TO AIKEN

Florence, S. C., September 28.—George Rivers, negro, held in connection with the wrecking of an Atlantic Coast Line train near Augusta, Ga., May 20, in which Engineer Joseph Temple was killed and about twenty persons injured, was removed from the Florence county jail here tonight by Deputy Sheriff H. B. Gervain, of Aiken county, who will take the negro to Aiken, where he will be arraigned tomorrow for trial.

CHARGE VIOLATION OF ANTI-TRUST ACT

New York, September 28.—The federal grand jury, which has been investigating an alleged building materials trust, today handed down an indictment charging two groups of terra cotta manufacturing corporations with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

We find that this vast industry, reaching from here to the coast, said United States District Attorney Hayward, "has been within the complete and arbitrary control of about 25 men throughout the United States."

A very exhaustive investigation of the terra cotta industry has revealed a startling situation.

Corporations included in the national group include terra cotta manufacturing concerns in Chicago, Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles, Indianapolis, Denver, St. Louis, Kansas City, Philadelphia and more than a dozen other towns in California, Missouri, Washington, New York, New Jersey and Georgia. In the eastern group was one Philadelphia concern and a number of others in small towns in Georgia, New Jersey and New York.

United States Attorney Hayward, in his statement, declared that the indicted firms and men "are banded together and operated almost as one."

The upshot of it all has been that the price of terra cotta in recent years has risen from approximately $40 per ton to $200 and $300 per ton. These men in control of a basic industry essential to builders and home dwellers have put themselves in a position whereby they can levy a tribute upon every family in the land and upon every father who builds a home.

Harold B. Wey, vice president and general manager of the Atlanta Terra Cotta company, stated when apprised of the above dispatch Wednesday night that this was the first he had heard of the indictment or attempt to indict, but he declined to make any other statement regarding his firm's position in connection with the case until he had had opportunity to learn more of the details.

Delay in Pensions May Cause Veterans To Miss Reunion

Americus, Ga., September 28.—Delay in paying pensions to Confederate soldiers in Sumter county has caused a number of these to seek to discount their pension warrants. Many of them desire to attend the general reunion next month in Chattanooga, while others require the money for the purchase of warm winter clothing and other necessities. Friends of the veterans here, anxious to provide generously for them in their declining years, are now seeking a money lender who will advance the money for the veterans at a reasonable charge, but so far these efforts have not been successful.

$50 TAX FAVORED ON MEN WHO SELL AT RAILROAD CARS

Approval was given by the tax committee of council Wednesday afternoon to an ordinance imposing license tax of $50 a railroad car on persons who ship and sell carload lots of food products either at retail or wholesale from the car at the railroads, unless sold to the local food merchants. The paper was sponsored by Atlanta food dealers and a delegation was present to support it, although the paper was passed without hearing from them.

At present there is no tax imposed on a producer who sells at the railroad here, except products. There is a tax of $10 a car on watermelons. The food dealers claim that the business of the unlicensed shippers is injuring them.

A fight is predicted when the question is reported to council. Councilman J. C. Murphy, chairman of the committee, stated that the paper looked to him like a "protective tariff" measure. Alderman Oscar Williamson, present in the role of visitor, announced his opposition to the ordinance.

The committee approved a resolution introduced by Councilman Fred C. Woodall requiring all persons, eligible to taxation, who may hereafter be employed by the city, to present their tax receipts showing payment of the previous year's taxes, except in the case of day laborers.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

H. P. Russey, district manager of the General Electric company, will deliver an address on "Radio" at the first fall meeting of the Atlanta section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in the chamber of commerce, Thursday night. A large number of engineers is expected to be present.

STOPPING THE LEAKS.

As Budget Director Dawes gets
deeper into his task of straighten-
ing out and systematizing the government's business he finds it necessary from time to time to revise
his estimate of the possibilities of
economy in operation under the budget system.

He believes now that he can double his original estimate of $112,000,000 as the amount that he can save on appropriations for the current fiscal year.

One way in which he hopes to save a large part of this additional $112,000,000 is to break down the alright partitions between the various departments of the government, which in the past have caused each department to function as a distinct business instead
of a correlated branch of the same business.

General Dawes has rediscovered
the time-honored fact that each
department has been buying surplus in other departments, and selling surplus supplies at a loss without regard to a possible demand
for the same material by other departments.

He intends, he says, to stop this practice, and, as the government
would thus buy from itself an equivalent saving would accrue.

More than that, elimination of
this tremendous waste would automatically do away with expenditures now going to pay the salaries
of purchasing agents and others
employed by the various departments in buying and handling
supplies.

But General Dawes may expect
a loud howl and stubborn opposition from congress once he essays
to reduce the payroll of appointive
office-holders and reduce the number of useless offices.

That has been tried before, and failed.

Every effort that has ever been
made to abolish land offices, assay
offices, customs houses, etc., where
little or no business was being done and the usefulness of which had ceased to exist, has met with
stubborn resistance by congress,
which is traditionally loath to dispense with any office that carries with it a soft job without work for some "deserving" politician who is useful in keeping "the boys back
home in line."

Dawes is going about his duties
as budget director with a spirit of determination and a purposefulness that at least commands the approval of the public; but the republican administration—both
in congress and the executive branch—is going to be judged by the people not by what General Dawes says he wants to do, but by
what it actually does toward minimizing the cost of running the government and relieving the burdens of
the taxpayer.

So far, after almost seven
months, it has done practically
nothing to redeem its economy
pledges.

For the fiscal year 1916-17 (the first of Wilson's second term) the
democratic administration expended $1,114,000,000.

For the current year the republican administration is expending $4,000,000,000, which, when the interest on the war debt is deducted,
is $2,500,000,000 more than the
democratic administration expended in 1916-17.

That is "republican efficiency
and economy" with a vengeance.

On the floor of the senate a few days ago Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi democrat, commenting upon Senator Smoot's reported
statement that the government
will expend $5,000,000,000 a year,

TREATY TROUBLES.

President Harding's peace treaties with the central powers are a long ways from our conception of the duty and fidelity to our allies
that the world had a right to expect of America; and yet let us
hope that we will not have a repetition of the petty political fight
in the senate that crucified the treaty of Versailles, and in doing
so came pretty near crucifying the
business and producing interests
of this country.

Those who watched and felt the
swing of the pendulum following
the failure of the senate to ratify,
somehow and in some way, even
if with reservations the peace
treaty that was the storm center
of American politics for two years,
cotton in that period dropping
from 40 cents to 10 cents, and
wheat, corn, wool, live stock and
everything else that America produces for export falling corre-
spondingly to far less than producing costs, cannot but view with alarm the political play that Senator Borah, abetted by a handful of democrats, is threatening to
stage in the senate in opposition
to the present treaty.

It is admitted that the Knox-Porter resolution is and can be of no practical value in clearing the
very depressing atmosphere incident to a technical state of war
with Germany and her allies.

Some kind of a treaty must be ratified by the senate before this
condition, that has so seriously
embarrassed international trading,
and so hampered to ridiculous low
levels American export products,
can be relieved.

If the treaty of Versailles had been ratified, as it should have been, cotton would not have suffered the slump that slashed its
price from 40 to 10 cents a pound,
and the trans-Atlantic lanes would
be dotted with shipping.

The treaty was defeated, due to
a disgraceful political fight that
did not hesitate at sacrificing business interests to party expediency
—and the American people have seen the consequences, and suffered accordingly.

If another treaty storm is to
break over the country, Heaven
pity us!

The new treaties are not what they should have been. But in the name of a suffering people the country should be spared another
treaty scramble that can accomplish nothing but further prolong
in this country a condition that is intolerable and inexcusable.

THE INSECT LESSON.

The slugard was well-advanced
of old when he was told to "go to
the ant" and—turn over a new leaf.

From that far day to this the ant
has been giving lessons in industry and resourcefulness to the slugards of the human race—however little they may have been heeded.

In this connection the following,
from The Toronto Sunday World,
which rightly claims that an ant
hill has solved many complicated
mining problems is of interest,
though it may seem to some to be
"stretching" the imagination—

"Thousands of ants working instinctively perform miraculous engineering feats with amazing efficiency and without profit-seeking.
Each ant finds its own work and the work is solved in surprisingly efficient manner. When one shift of workers tires
or must stop for food or rest, its place
is taken by other workers equally
skillful, so that not a moment is lost. When an ant becomes covered by dirt, it immediately cleans it
by washing and brushing. During their mining operations in digging holes and removing stones an
ant is often injured, whereupon others
rush to its assistance and carry
it to a quiet gallery, where first aid may be administered. The resourcefulness of these little engineers has been found to anticipate
many of our recent efficiency methods."

Practically the same story has been told in books dealing with the insect world, and it is a wonder
that the "sons of rest" of various communities, with plenty of time
to consider the working ways, even
of insects, haven't profited by them
in taking the lessons home—the
lessons of individual and teamwork, for the benefit of all.

Too many are like little children,
who watch the thirty ants building their mimic storehouses, only to block their progress, or destroy their work when completed. This class
never helps in world-achievement nor
stands aside to let the industrial procession pass.

Compared generally with what
the insect kingdom accomplishes
in thrift and forethought, we are not so far advanced after all.

The chronic idler would be well
pleased with the prospect of a nice,
warm jail for the winter, but the certainty of having to work for
his board and keep is enough to make him move on.

Just From Georgia

Where Autumn
Winds Are Singing

Don't want any

derneath the sun.
In this here Autumn weather
it's most too
good to run.

An't the same
ain't worth the
candle when all is said
and done—
Jes' leave me where the Autumn
winds are singin'!

Whist the sunshine is a-fallin' o'er
the country, soon an' late,
Jes' think o' speechifyin' on the
stumps throughout the state!
I'd rather go a-fishin' with a boy
to call her she was slow and singin'!

No legislatur' gits me—no congress
has the call;
Don't have ter fix my fences when
Trouble lets me fall.
I've come to the conclusion that I'm happier than all.
Resin' where the Autumn winds
are singin'!

Placing the Peasimist.
(From The Waycross Journal-Herald.)
The peasimist isn't as numerous as he seems. Three frogs croak in a pond make more noise than the
water that turns the mill wheel.

The Good, Great Time!
Autumn was sure admit-
All on the provident plan!
Look at her, lightin' the fire.
An' plenty to put in the pan!
Ain't the mouth-smakin' season?
An' think o' the gold in the lan'!

"When North Carolina was the
indefinitely lovable Rip Van Winkle of the states," as Dr. Archibald Henderson called her, she was slow and safe. But now that she has become one of the fast-moving progressives,
her modern moonshine kills outright
where in the oldtime it would merely put a man in a trance or give him St. Vitus' dance."

The Small Boy's Poem.
Don't I like the falltime fine!
School ain't takin' every minute;
Injun Summer soon'll be.
But—the thing that bothers me
Is—they ain't a Injun in it!

Was the Whole Team?
The editor of The Kinsley Graphic
recently roasted a farmer who had plowed up the highway in front of his place because some passing
motorists had killed some of his chickens. "We demanded in the name of the law to know if the
trustee of that township and
county who is supposed to stand
for it," said the editor, "now
we learn that the aforesaid farmer
fills both offices."

Promised Land.
While the world is dreaming
In the weather sunny,
Winter's in his snow bank,
Countin' up his money;
But Autumn doesn't care a cent.
With all the milk and honey!

Now Will You Cheer Up?
(From The Sandersville Progress.)
Why worry yourself over
the mooted question as to when the world will end? You were not here when it was created and you will not be here when it blows up.

The Reflection of The Thomsville Times-Enterprise man is that "the men that are born poor often get
over it, and so do the men that are born rich."

To My Old Violin
(For The Constitution.)
I.
What wondrous power from heaven
Upon thee wrought?
What prisoned Ariel within thee
broods?

Marvel at the human skill and human
thought!
Light as a dry leaf in the winter's woods!

II.
Thou mystic thing all beautiful!
What mind
Conceived thee, what intelligence
began
And out of chaos thy rare shape
designed.

Thou delicate and perfect work
of man!
Across my hands thou liest mute
and still;
Thou wilt not breathe to me thy
secret fire;

Thy matchless tones the eager air
shall thrill
To no untreaty or command of
mine.

IV.
But comes thy master, lo! thou
yieldest all;
Passion and pathos, rapture and
despair;
To the accents need thy searching
voice doth call
In language exquisite beyond
compare.

V.
Thou into speech articulate at last Thou seem'st to break, and Thou earnest listener hears
The wake the echoes of the vanished past.

Touching the source of gladness
and of tears.
VI.
And with bowed head he lets the
sweet wave roll
Across him, swayed by that weird
power of thine,
And reverence and wonder fill his
soul
That man's creation should be so divine.

each, but owing to the court's refusing to accept parol bonds signed
by power of attorney, they were

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Luke Cornaro (born 1484, died 1524) was a Venetian physician and philosopher with a good practical knowledge of the human body, and a great deal of common sense. He lived to the age of 70, and his life
was a lesson in health and longev-
ity.

Like all other hermits of health
and longevity before and since his
time, Cornaro was a practical philosopher with a good practical knowledge of the human body, and a great deal of common sense. He
lived to the age of 70, and his life
was a lesson in health and longev-
ity.

Throughout his life Cornaro was
a practical philosopher with a good practical knowledge of the human body, and a great deal of common sense. He lived to the age of 70,
and his life was a lesson in health
and longevity.

Another queer thing about these
great hermits of longevity is that they were all born poor, and their wealth was gained by their own
industry and economy. Cornaro's wealth was gained by his own industry and economy.

For many years Cornaro's daily
ration consisted of not over 12
ounces of food and, except the months of July and August, about four ounces of wine. Still, later
he reduced his ration still further
and found that this actually gave him greater energy.

The North Carolina cotton commissioners have just received a result of the survey of the cotton industry in that state, and the information is of great interest to the cotton growers of this state.

Georgia Investment
Bankers to Consider
Ruling on Securities

Investment bankers of Georgia
have been invited to attend a conference to be held in the office of the state securities commission
Tuesday, October 11, to discuss the recent ruling of Attorney-General George M. Napier covering the issuing of licenses to handle securities of certain classes.

Those who will attend are members of the securities commission,
Attorney-General Napier, investment bankers and others having interest in the securities of Georgia.
Mr. Connor said the meeting was called to work out plans under
which the ruling of the attorney-
general will not work a hardship
on dealers in legitimate securities.

Orthodox Syrians
Planning to Build
Church in Atlanta

A church in Atlanta where services will be conducted in their native tongue is being planned by the Syrians of the Greek Orthodox faith. Property at 255 East Hundredth street has already been purchased as a site for the edifice,
which, it is hoped, will be erected
within a few months.

There are thirty families of Syrian Greek Christians living in Atlanta, who are interested in the building of this church, some of whom have resided here for twenty years without having an opportunity to enter a sacred edifice in their own language.

The estimated cost of building
the church is $10,000, and the Syrian Orthodox workers are making
an appeal to their fellow citizens
of Atlanta to assist them in raising this amount. Contributions
may be mailed to the treasurer,
Moses S. Dyer, 82 Deane street,
or to the credit of Saint Elias Syrian Greek Orthodox society.

SERVICES TO BE HELD
FOR BARTHOLOMEW

Funeral services for Rev. William
M. Bartholomew, Presbyterian minister and widely known in Atlanta,
will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday
afternoon at the home of his son,
Dr. R. A. Bartholomew, 68 Pennsylvania street. Burial will follow in the cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. R. A. Bartholomew.

Besides his son, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Calvin H. East,
of Cincinnati; Mrs. Joseph C. Dinwiddie, of Atlanta; Mrs. John H.
Markert, of Atlanta; Mrs. Albert
Lindenberg, of South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. Fletche Simons,
of Chicago.

Rev. Bartholomew, who came to Atlanta from Indiana, had for some time been retired from active service in the ministry. Although he had been living here for less than two years, he had gained a wide
circle of friends throughout the city.
His son, Dr. Bartholomew, is a well-known Atlanta physician.

MELL WILKINSON

DEPLETES STRIFE

Deplored differences which extended from "earth to heaven" in Atlanta and which split the unity of the chamber building. Present was the metropolis of the southeast, Mell
Wilkinson, former president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and now president of the Atlanta Presidents' club, discussed the Southeastern fair Wednesday afternoon at the chamber building. Present were presidents and secretaries of local clubs and commercial clubs, who met under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to devise
plans for making club day and
club night, October 30, one of the most successful days of the fair.

"These differences and contentions, religious and otherwise, which are making Atlanta the cynosure for all eyes as a center of factions, and
Mr. Wilkinson, 'constitute a condition which must be stopped if Atlanta is to continue her present
nominal progress, a progress which has made her the metropolis of the southeast, and which will result in
the complete co-operation of her citizens in the nearest desire to make Atlanta great."

The southeastern fair affords Atlanta an opportunity to show the differences and forget factions and
as a result show the world how
to co-operate and is not really
aids for factions, as some newspapers would have it.

Full co-operation of the civic
clubs represented at the meeting
was offered to the junior
chamber and Tom Winn, president
of the Automobile association, proposed himself to take care of 1,000
free tickets on club day and Mrs.
E. Thornton, president of the City Federation of Women's clubs, also pledged her support for making the day a success.

Westmoreland, president of the junior chamber, president and injunction with George M. Napier,
chairman of the club-day committee,
outlined the purpose of the fair and
the junior chamber's attendance
campaign. Julian Boehm, president
of the Civic League, and W. C.
Hastings, president of the South-
eastern fair association, and W. C.
Cooper, former secretary of the
chamber, also spoke.

Members of the junior chamber's
committee on club-day and ladies
day, followed by George M. Napier,
chairman of the club-day committee,
outlined the purpose of the fair and

campaign. Julian Boehm, president
of the Civic League, and W. C.
Hastings, president of the South-
eastern fair association, and W. C.
Cooper, former secretary of the
chamber, also spoke.

After the invocation by Rev. W. C.
King, editor of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, a Scripture lesson was read by Rev. J. N. Jackson, president of the Columbus district of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Perry P. Mullins, apostle for the student body and welcomed the new members.

Dr. M. L. Brittain, a graduate of Emory of the class of '86, and state superintendent of education, gave
the principal address of the morning.
He affirmed that, although he had been to other universities and colleges since his graduation, he always called Emory his alma mater.

Dr. Brittain spoke of the elements
of success in the life of a college
man. He summed up in the three words, "Work, Save and Give." "I think the ideal student ought to be a student, a worker, a saver, a giver," he said.

KLAN WILL WAIT ON FEDERAL REPLY

Col. W. J. Simmons Sends Request for Probe of Order
to President and the Attorney-General.

Ku Klux Klan officials today await answers from either President Harding or Attorney-General Daugherty to their telegraphed request for a federal investigation of the organization, principles and activities of their order. The telegrams were sent Wednesday over the signature of Colonel W. J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the order. Persons in close touch with the Ku Klux situation declare that this move was made by Colonel Simmons to bring to a head the agitation against the klan. It is believed to be the outgrowth of repeated conferences with leaders of the klan from various sections of the country, which had been held practically each day in the imperial palace since the publication of the original attacks on the organization made by The New York World.

Position of Klan.

The Klansmen's position is described as being this—that if the president and attorney-general, each or both, decline to authorize the investigation proposed, it is proof conclusive that the klan is operating within the laws of the United States and is a direct reflection to the charges of un-Americanism brought by The World and other newspapers. On the other hand, if the investigation by federal authorities is authorized, the Klansmen are confident that the order will, to use their own words, "stand out in the white light of vindication from charges made against it."

Other than telegrams sent to the nation's chief and his chief legal adviser there were no developments in the klan situation Wednesday. Colonel Simmons continued to deny himself to all callers, pleading that he was unable to receive any one due to his attack of laryngitis. E. Y. Clarke, imperial kiegale, whose resignation is an immediate and pressing klan problem, was also reported ill from a nervous breakdown at his home. Conferences between these two high officials of the order, therefore, were impossible. The announcement was made, however, from the imperial palace that Colonel Simmons would in all probability be able to assume active charge of the klan affairs Thursday.

Wire to President.

The wire from Colonel Simmons to the president follows: Atlanta, Ga., September 28, 1921. President Warren G. Harding, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Sir: The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan respectfully ask that an investigation be made by the federal authorities in the klan.

We plead for and would welcome such an investigation, and can appeal to you, the chief magistrate of the greatest republic the world has ever seen, with clean hands, a clear conscience and with knowledge that, after such an investigation is completed, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will stand out in the white light of vindication from charges made against it.

The klan was founded on the bedrock principles of democracy and patriotism. It seeks only to bring together in a confederate union of the best of the American people. We affirm with millions of Americans that all men should have the right to vote and worship as they please, so long as they please not to attack or undermine the great principles upon which the United States was founded.

Our creed is an affirmation that the American commonwealth was founded by the western races, and the right of citizenship of the United States is a privilege of the white race. We seek only to keep our ancient faith, and racial integrity, and to encourage our members to a better citizenship.

We have the sense that small minorities in our body politic have no long exercised. The Knights of Columbus, certain Jewish alliance and foreign associations have organized and function for the purpose of inciting in their members peculiar religious or racial loyalties.

We have the right to organize for the purpose of securing in our members the principles by which America will stand or fall, the love of our country, and the belief in the broad Protestantism upon which our nation was founded, the abolition of the generation of church and state, these things being the ancient landmarks of our Anglo-Saxon civilization in American institutions.

As founder and chief officer of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, I have been inspired by the same devotion of country that, at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, caused me, a youth of 18, to enter the ranks in the first regiment, Alabama volunteers, company H, and to continue in the ranks for the duration of the war, receiving at its end an honorable discharge.

Letter to Daugherty.

The letter to the attorney-general follows: Atlanta, Ga., September 28, 1921. Attorney-General Daugherty, Washington, D. C.

Sir: The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, through me, the head of the order, respectfully request that you order a complete and thorough investigation by the department of justice of the klan, its organization, purpose and activities. We pledge you the assistance of all officials and members of the klan in this investigation, of records, books, files, etc., at your disposal.

If any scattered press, as charged by a small certain press, have been committed by members of the Ku Klux Klan, we will

FIVE-CENT FARE EFFECTIVE TODAY

Beginning Thursday the five-cent street car rates between Atlanta and Decatur and Atlanta and College Park, which were declared valid by the supreme court Tuesday, will be put into effect, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company. Mr. Arkwright said the company will announce later its decision as to whether or not an appeal from the supreme court ruling will be taken to the supreme court of the United States.

Since the litigation in reference to the five-cent fare has been pending, the company has charged only five cents to Decatur and has charged seven cents to College Park under authority of a supersedeas granted in the Fulton superior court. A claim check for two cents, however, was given to each College Park passenger. These checks to be redeemed in case the supreme court held the five-cent fare valid.

Will Redeem Claim Checks. Mr. Arkwright announced these claim checks will be redeemed at once and said the company would require of each passenger a receipt for payment on the claim check.

In the litigation before the Fulton and DeKalb superior courts and before the supreme court attorneys representing the power company alleged frequently to federal questions involved. One of the federal questions is whether or not the Georgia legislature had the power to grant charters to the towns of Decatur and College Park giving them authority to make contracts as to railway fares. The question of discrimination also is involved according to the attorneys.

The company will adopt its old plan on the College Park line in collecting fare. Through passengers to College Park will pay five cents as they leave the car, making their exit through the rear door. Passengers riding College Park cars who stop at way stations within the city limits of Atlanta will be required to pay seven cents fare as they leave the car.

Following is Mr. Arkwright's statement: The ordinary legal procedure would probably require that the judgment of the supreme court in the College Park fare case should be made the judgment of the lower court before the resumption of the charge of five cents to College Park passengers would be made and before the company had to be required to refund the two-cent fare receipts heretofore issued.

This is rather a legal formality. Therefore, the company will put the decision into effect at once.

Beginning Thursday morning, September 29, passengers boarding College Park cars within the limits of College Park for Atlanta, as well as passengers leaving the cars within the limits of College Park, having traveled from Atlanta, will be charged 5 cents. Passengers boarding or leaving the cars between College Park and Atlanta will be charged 7 cents. In order that proper fare will be charged to the particular passenger, it will be necessary on outgoing trips from Atlanta for all passengers on the line to leave the car through the rear door, and pay the appropriate fare as they leave.

Receipts heretofore given under the order of Judge Pendleton will be redeemed upon presentation at the principal office of the company in Atlanta, Ga., and 2 cents each, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the date of issue to the time of presentation. Under the order receipts must be presented within 60 days. It will require time in some cases to calculate the proper amount of interest, so there may be instances where payment will have to be withheld a short time in order that the interest due may be calculated.

The company has not yet decided whether the case will be taken to the supreme court of the United States. The supersedeas order of Judge Pendleton, however, was to end the decision of the supreme court of Georgia.

CHAMBER TO HELP ENCOURAGE RADIO WORK IN ATLANTA

The committee of the chamber of commerce recently appointed by President Leo Ashcraft for fostering radio work among amateurs and professionals in Atlanta, held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon. The membership includes H. L. Willis, chairman; Thurston Hatcher, vice chairman; Hunter Perry, James J. B. Hoffman, William T. Rich, C. H. Carroll, George J. Yundt and W. O. Foote, vice president.

The committee will form a contact between the chamber of commerce and all persons interested in this work in the city and is designed to assist all agencies now engaged in promoting this work.

The committee decided to begin shortly the erection of an aerial on the chamber of commerce building and they will have a large demonstration of the practical use of this instrument. Valuable information is given daily by the government through wireless instruments to farmers and others concerning weather, time, and other subjects.

The United States is divided into districts for designating radio stations. Atlanta is in the fourth district, embracing the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. Within this area there are more than a hundred amateur stations and this does not include government stations, which are constantly picked up by local amateur telephonists.

The scholastic year of Lanier university will begin today, according to announcement made Wednesday by General Nathan P. Forrest, secretary and general manager of the institution. Extensive work in renovating the building and grounds has been done preparatory to the opening.

Colonel William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, is president of the institution, which has recently been taken over by the order. Dr. E. C. Jones is dean of the university, and the faculty includes Dr. J. P. Bradley, Dr. J. H. Boldridge, Professor Kurt Mueller and Mrs. M. P. Grove.

The school is situated about one-half mile beyond the terminus of the Highland avenue car line, and temporary transportation from the trolley cars to the school is furnished by a bus line. By next year, it is thought, the car line will be extended to the institution. Courses offered by the school for the 1921-22 session include collegiate work in liberal arts, music, art, dramatic art, home economics, commerce and commercial law, law, pharmacy and correspondence courses. A preparatory department will give the equivalent of four years work in the high schools.

Thundershowers and temperature similar to that of Wednesday is predicted for Atlanta and Georgia Thursday by the local weather bureau. Rain, which fell intermittently Tuesday in Atlanta, amounted to 36 inches. The only considerable precipitation in the United States was at Galveston, Texas, where a fall of 1.06 inches was recorded.

Temperatures throughout the United States Wednesday were approximately similar. The highest recorded was at Phoenix, Ariz., where the barometer reached 36 degrees. The lowest was 48 degrees, at Huron, S. D.

24½ Million Dollars Invested by Employees of Swift & Company

More than 21,000 employees of Swift & Company own or are paying for shares in the business. These men and women have attested their faith in the integrity and good will of the company by investing their savings in the business.

Their holdings represent a total of nearly 250,000 shares, the par value ($100 a share) of which is more than $24,500,000.

These 21,000 represent more than one-third of our average number of employees!

One man out of every three, in plant, office, and branch house, from the handworker on the floor to the brainworker at the

39th ANNIVERSARY

A Brief History of Atlanta's First Departmental Store

Chapter I.---The Start

ESTABLISHED in 1882 by Mr. Joseph Madison High in a modest, one-story room of 5,000 square feet on Whitehall street. Its pay roll showed less than a dozen employees.

Its annual business was under $50,000.

But—established on a foundation of "honesty" and "fair dealing"—the business grew and grew.

Chapter II.---Growth

IN 1891 the J. M. High Company moved into its own building on the southwest corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets. It had 4 floors and more than 50,000 square feet of floor space.

Then was established the First strictly department store in Atlanta. Its payroll numbered more than 100 employees.

Its opening was celebrated as no occasion of its kind was ever celebrated in Atlanta—before or since.

The Governor of the State, Statehouse officials, the Mayor and Council of the City, and thousands of Atlantians were in attendance.

Chapter III.---Expansion

THROUGHOUT its years the J. M. High Company has steadfastly maintained its place in the forefront of the mercantile establishments of the South—growing, expanding each year.

Three years ago the J. M. High Company entered its present business home with five floors covering 150,000 square feet of space.

Five hundred employees are on its payroll.

Its business has grown to a volume of nearly three millions of dollars annually.

It enjoys and appreciates the patronage of thousands of people in the South, outside of many thousands in Atlanta.

It is growing Bigger and Better each year.

Chapter IV.---Policy

TO give "honest merchandise of the greatest possible value at the lowest cost,"—to make "every transaction entirely satisfactory to the individual purchaser." These are the cornerstones in the foundation of this big mercantile institution and on these we shall continue to build and grow, and expand.

J.M. HIGH COMPANY

And a Page of Merchandising History in the Making

Chapter V.---Today

AND now we enter into the fortieth year of our business Life, striving more earnestly, more steadfastly than before to merit the confidence and good will of the public.

Knowing that "He profits most who serves best," every person in this big organization is attuned to the "spirit" of service, in all that the word implies. We have that ever before us.

And this is the greatest service we can render our public:—to offer good, dependable merchandise when it is most wanted, at the lowest price at which it can be sold.

And so, we enter into our fortieth business year with this pledge:—that henceforth, more surely than in the past, will we serve you as you would be served.

Chapter VI.---Now

NOW we inaugurate The Thirty-ninth Anniversary Sale. Terminating Thirty-nine years of steady, forward-stepping growth, and commemorating our pledge to greater service.

Our first step toward serving you better.

A sale in which we will distribute to the people of Atlanta and Georgia three-quarters of a million dollars worth of dependable, staple merchandise, at prices amazingly low. Prices that hold tangible, worth-while savings for all who will attend.

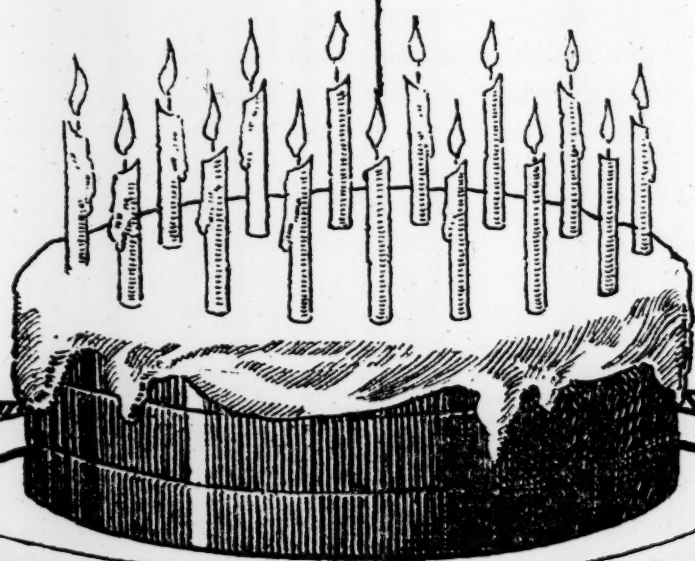

Months have been spent in preparation. The markets have been combed for their best offerings. More was rejected than was accepted, for, unfortunately, good merchandise has been scarce.

But now we are ready. Every department is crammed with good things. Our doors open now for the greatest merchandising drive we have ever attempted. A drive far-reaching in its scope;—that will distribute thousands upon thousands of dollars in Savings.

For most of this merchandise was bought at the market's lowest ebb, just prior to the recent wholesale advances occasioned by the increase in the price of cotton. And so it will be sold. Item after item is offered at a Sale price which is Lower than the item can be duplicated for at wholesale today.

It is a genuine opportunity for you. Coming as it does just at the opening of the Fall season, it makes possible the supplying of your entire Fall needs at Savings that would otherwise be impossible.

Attend without fail.

Defensive Work of Tech Squad Drawing Attention of Coaches

Stanton Discusses Various Sets of Defensive Systems That Tornado Is Studying.

BY JOHN STANTON.
Tech's Left End.

For the next few days, or I should say for a goodly portion of time, commencing yesterday, Tech will take up and learn different systems of defense. In football as in any other game, a good defense is of far more value than a jump offense. This has long been recognized in the east, but it is only in the last few years that we in the south have been awake to that fact. It used to be the custom to spend a majority of the season in developing a good offense. Then, when the game was to be played, the defense was left to the mercy of the opposition. Now it is the team with the penetrable defense that carries off the honors.

Pittsburgh, being definitely and decisively out of the series, even admitting that they still retain a mathematical chance for the Pirates to win the series, centers down to a comparison of position strengths between the Giants and Cleveland.

In the comparison of second basemen, the American League has all the advantage, and it perhaps would have been well for the National League to have been able to figure out this as the representative of that league.

There remains no doubt of the supremacy of the American League's outfielders over the National League's. It comes down to a comparison of the second basemen, and it is in this position that the National League has the advantage.

FORT WORTH WINS TITLE

Fort Worth, Texas, September 28.—The Fort Worth Texas League season won the baseball championship of the south here today by defeating the Memphis Southern association pennant winners by the score of 3 to 0. The Tennessee champions were unable to score in today's contest, while Fort Worth was able to push across three runs—one in the first and two in the fifth.

Joe Tate, the Panthers' left-hand pitcher, was hero of today's game as well as of the series, three games of which he won, while Oscar Tuero, the Cuban star of Memphis, pitched good ball and held Fort Worth to six hits, the same number made by the Panthers made their hit count in the first and fifth.

City Football Title Saturday

Petrels Keep Ominously Quiet

The city football championship is to be decided Saturday, though there is no probability that there isn't a doubt in the mind of a single soul in Atlanta as to who'll be returned victor when the small but aspiring Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe tackle the embattled Giants of Tornado.

It won't be long, particularly in Atlanta as to who'll be returned victor when the small but aspiring Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe tackle the embattled Giants of Tornado.

Still he has some new and tremendous strength built for the building insulator. He has been under his tutelage this year.

There has been an ominous feeling from out Oglethorpe way in reference to this Tech game, and maybe that is not without some basis in fact. This contingency is devoutly to be desired. Atlanta's appetite is all whetted up for a real football battle.

HEAVY LINE AT RUTGERS

New Brunswick, September 28.—(Special.)—With the opening of the season past and Rutgers' defense of Coach Sanford is pointing his squad of Rutgers footballers for the Lehigh game two weeks hence and Georgia Tech game at Atlanta, October 25. The University of Maryland visits Nelson field next Saturday.

Although Coach Sanford has a galaxy of schoolboy stars and promising green material working out at Nelson field it is not likely that he will use them except as substitutes, in any of the early games. While last year's team had anything but a successful season, the members of it gained a great deal of experience and Coach Sanford has a majority of them back to form a complete eleven. In the initial lineup it is up to the Coach to select the most army of freshmen players.

The Scarlet line this season is a formidable one, averaging more than 200 pounds and composed entirely of veterans. It can open up holes in the opposing lines when on the offensive and when it is being attacked it very seldom capitulates. In the line of defense, Coach Sanford has introduced an innovation in his coaching system and directs practice from a tower sixteen feet high. The tower is mounted on iron wheels and can be moved in any direction during the scrimmage every afternoon. A detail of freshmen managers pull it up and down the field, and its height the Scarlet line is better able to direct its defense.

petite is all whetted up for a real football battle.
